Origin of Food Safety Standard

- The principle of the HACCP was elaborated in the Sixties by the Pillsbury company, the American army and NASA, which collaborated in the development of a salubrious food production system for the program space.
- NASA wanted a total elimination of the defects program which can guarantee the healthiness of food consumed by the astronauts in space (/ space astronauts). Pillsbury thus introduced and adopted the HACCP system , which seemed to be able to offer maximum healthiness and to make it possible less to count on the sampling and the analysis of the finished products.
